

WATER AT THE HIGHEST LEVEL

Mode of action

This is how UMH technology works: Tap water flowing through is first swirled centripetally and broken down into small partial currents. Now the water passes through a highly effective oscillation field, which is generated by specially informed liquids, gemstones and other natural energy sources. The resulting increase in surface area and change in crystal structure makes the water noticeably softer.

Through direct contact with the energy field, a safe transmission of bioenergetic fields takes place. This achieves a permanent positive reorganisation of the physical structure of the water.

At the same time, the pollutant information in the water is demonstrably erased. (Expert opinion Dr. Ludwig and Dr. Kohfink) Enjoy fresh water according to nature's example.

"Water is life, but only if it is alive!"

Nature as a model

The only sustainable source of new life energy is and remains nature: fresh air, energy-rich water, sunlight and natural food.

The Institute for Water and Environmental Improvement, based in Carinthia, has been working intensively on natural water treatment for more than 25 years. The laws of nature serve as a model.

All UMH devices are manufactured 100% in Austria in small series and in elaborate manual work. In addition to technical know-how, high-quality materials, exclusive product design and sustainable production play a very special role.

Water needs structure

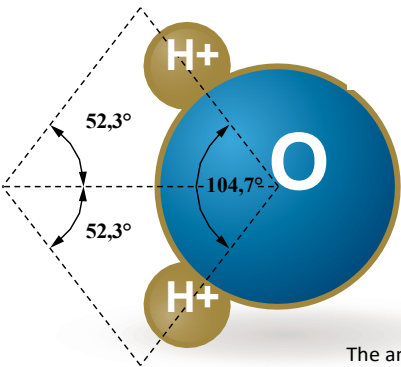

Graphite and diamond both consist exclusively of carbon and are therefore chemically identical. Only the different structures of the crystal lattices lead to completely different properties.

If we transfer this image to water, here too it is not only the chemical nature but above all the structure and degree of order of the water molecules that is of overriding importance.

Our drinking water today is often chlorinated, chemically purified and UV-irradiated. It is pressed under high pressure through kilometre-long pipelines. The original crystalline structure of the water is almost completely lost and our cells can no longer be optimally supplied with water.

"The secret of life lies in the water that keeps order."

Karl Trincher, Biophysicist

The angle of the water molecule is directly related to the measurement of the Pyramid of Giza.

UMH convinces

A steadily growing customer base and extensive expert reports confirm the far-reaching importance of UMH technology. Not only private households and companies benefit from the numerous advantages. Agricultural businesses and, above all, holistic doctors and therapists have also relied on a natural way of water treatment for many years. Permanently structured, cell-permeable water is of elementary importance.

The effect of the UMH devices can be clearly proven by means of drop image methods, UV spectroscopy, biophone measurements according to Dr. Popp, surface tension measurements, skin resistance measurements according to Dr. Voll, colour plate methods, Biacorus measurements, kinesiology, vital field diagnostics, crystal images according to Emoto, radiaesthesia and microscopy. Without electricity - without chemicals

UMH technology is maintenance-free and its effect is unlimited in time. It works without electricity or chemicals, according to purely physical principles.

Only this natural method of water treatment makes it possible to regenerate the powerless tap water. The energy value increases many times over.

Dr. Jürgen-Michael Kohfink-Kalagin from the Institute for Radiogeology in Munich confirmed through his high-frequency measurements the optimal and stable restructuring of the tap water after passing through the UMH devices. He compared the quality with the purest spring water from the Rocky Mountains.

"Repair" your tap water according to nature's example. Save yourself the hassle of carrying boxes, protect the environment and your wallet.

"Everything flows."

Wellness & Spa

With the UMH Pool, UMH offers an exclusive solution for energising swimming pool water, especially for wellness and swimming pool areas. The use of chemicals in swimming pool water is drastically minimised or can be avoided altogether. Chlorinated water is better tolerated, skin irritations are reduced and a bathing sensation like in natural water is achieved. Use the advantages of naturally structured pool water for more wellness and real well-being.

UMH Pool Series

Details:

- + Water with spring water structure
- + Fresh water for a longer time
- + Transmission of uplifting energies during swimming
- + Water with high skin compatibility
- + Saving of chlorine and cleaning agents
- + Protection for pipelines and reduced calcification
- + Maintenance free
- + Available in 6/4" and 2.5

Heating circuits

With UMH Heat, UMH offers an effective solution for energising the heating water, especially for floor heating and heating circuits. This prevents or reverses the clogging of the circuit water. Negative effects of underfloor heating, such as heavy legs, fatigue, circulation problems, etc., are eliminated by the energised quality of the water and the water remains clear for years.

"Water has a two-phase system. It can be liquid or crystalline."

Dr Wolfgang Ludwig

UMH Heat Series

Details:

- + Protects the heating circuit system from silting up
- + Transfer of building energies via the underfloor heating system
- + Increasing the quality of living space
- + The heating water remains clear for years
- + At least 5% heating cost savings
- + Maintenance free
- + Available in 1", 5/4", 6/4", 2", 2.5" and 3".

For legal reasons, the UMH company is generally not allowed to make any healing promises for any of the products it offers. The devices cannot be a substitute for medical care and can at best have a supporting effect. The listed expert opinions and the information on the effect are currently not recognised by all orthodox doctors and natural scientists. However, they are gaining importance in the field of alternative medicine. The use of UMH products should not lead to the substitution of treatment by a doctor or alternative practitioner in the case of health complaints.

Quality features of UMH water treatment

Excerpts from the reproducible, physical & medical evidence on the effectiveness of UMH technology

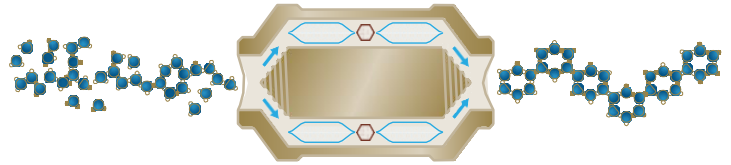

Spring water quality.

Our well-being depends to a large extent on high-quality food, nutrients and order structures in drinking water. With the UMH technology, an optimally vital and crystalline state is again achieved in the water. This makes the water available to the cells again.

Degree of order

Water crystal pictures according to Dr. Emoto show a clear improvement of the crystalline structure. The water regains its natural hexagonal structure.

Bioelectric condition

UMH restores the original energetic quality of the water. The very pronounced bioenergetic potential can still be clearly measured after several days with the Colorplate® test according to Dr. Knapp.

Cell availability

By means of the medically recognised bioelectrical impedance analysis, it could be proven in studies that UMH water leads to an optimal hydration of the extra- and intracellular area. These results have not yet been achieved with any other tested device.

Frequency measurements

Scientifically recognised UV, LF and HF measurements by Dr. Ludwig confirm a deletion of pollutant frequencies. The high storage capacity of biophotons also proves a strong structuring of the water molecules. This could be proven by investigations of Prof. Dr. Popp. This restores the original energetic quality of the water.

Scientific results

Water quality tests by Dr. Kröplin Uni Stuttgart, Dr. Doepp, DI Pfaffenbichler, Dr. Kilibaeva and simple microscope photographs of the lime composition also show impressive results. The high-frequency measurements by Dr. Kohfink-Kalagin prove the outstanding long-term stability and information conductivity of the UMH water.

Medical examinations

Measurements with the Oberon® Diagnosis System show an increase of 81% in the compensatory reaction of water treated with UMH. Bioresonance measurements at the meridian points (according to Dr. Voll) clearly show the invigorating and organ-supporting function of the water. Metabolic tests over many years also confirm optimal hydration of the cells.

The crystal image analysis by Dr. Höfer also shows that the UMH-treated water has natural crystal forms again.
